

Australian Road Deaths Database

Data Dictionary

December 2025

About the data

The Australian Road Deaths Database (ARDD) provides basic details of road transport crash fatalities in Australia as reported by the police each month to the State and Territory road safety authorities. It is published by the Bureau of Infrastructure and Transport Research Economics.

Road deaths from recent months are preliminary and subject to revision.

The ARDD contains basic demographic and crash details of people who have died in an Australian road crash. Every fatal road traffic crash in Australia is in scope. Details provided in the database fall into two groups:

- The circumstances of the crash, e.g. time, location, crash type
- Some details regarding the persons killed, e.g. age, gender, road user group

The ARDD is updated on a monthly basis. Heavy vehicle flags (articulated trucks, rigid trucks and buses) are only updated each quarter, and are current to within two months.

Citations for information derived from this database should include the database name, the webpage: <https://catalogue.data.infrastructure.gov.au/dataset/australian-road-deaths-database>, and the date of access.

Each record in the database corresponds to a killed person (fatality). Fatalities can be linked to fatal crashes using the Crash ID field.

Note: '-9' is used for missing/unknown values.

Disclaimer

Road deaths from recent months are preliminary and the series is subject to revision. Information included in this database is provided by third parties. The Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications, Sport and the Arts accepts no liability for any loss or damage suffered by any person or corporation resulting from the use of this data. In addition, the department does not guarantee system availability and is not responsible for any losses associated with any system unavailability.

Definition

The road safety agencies in each jurisdiction use detailed criteria to define road crashes and road deaths. Briefly, a death is classified as resulting from a road crash if the crash occurred on a public road, is unintentional and the death occurred within 30 days from injuries sustained in the crash.

Road deaths from recent months are preliminary and subject to revision.
